Presets

Locus Map is a very universal app - it can be set for many various activities, and not only the leisure time ones - it can also navigate in car or help professionals collect geo data or locate targets for rescue squads. This versatility and vast range of features, however, has its drawbacks - using Locus for more activities means a lot of re-setting. Speaking of adjustments to your screen layout, changing type of navigation recalculation, switching vector map themes, increasing map resolution etc.

With Presets you can reset whole Locus with two taps.

Using Presets requires a some setting in the beginning - above all, we recommend putting Presets button in the function panel:

Default Presets

When tapping Presets for the first time there are three default Presets:

- 1. basic settings as you know it after the first Locus start
- 2. cycling with hidden control panels and a dashboard

• 3. car - map rotation on, location cursor moved, target-priority auto recalculation on, road theme of maps etc.

A Preset is activated by tapping one of them.

Adding new Presets

If you want to add another Locus Preset, just save your current Locus settings by tapping in the bottom right part of the Preset box. Then just rename the new preset.

Editing Presets

If you are an experienced Locus user you can get to re-setting of the default presets - check "Advanced mode" in the topbar.

Option to edit is activated in each preset action menu:

tapping it gets you to the panel of settings switches:

Presets run in BETA mode so far and they do not contain all settings options Locus normally offers. There are only the most used preferences that resulted from a user survey.
